

Youth Confession

This is the day that God has made. I thank Him for it and I thank Him for allowing me to see it. I am created in God's image. I am unique, rare and valuable therefore I do not have to imitate others.

God has a plan for my life that is filled with hope and good things. I trust Him and know He will show it to me. I am not alone; the Lord is on my side. I don't live in fear of what others think of me. I am forgiven. I have accepted His gift of salvation through Jesus Christ's sacrifice, so I am His child.

I am filled with the Holy Spirit and follow His leading. God's power flows through me, therefore I am honest, intelligent, responsible, and full of integrity. I am gentle and loving, and I don't think only about myself because the fruit of the Spirit is growing in me. I hear the Holy Spirit and allow Him to correct and encourage me. My God gives me the ability to be disciplined and persistent. Because of Him I have courage to do what is right.

I will not allow my mind to wander or to think evil thoughts, but I will shut down everything that doesn't match who God is and who I am in Him. I will focus on things that are true, honest, just, pure, lovely, of good report, virtuous and worthy of praise. I will not allow myself to become bitter or discouraged; I will look everyday for someone to share the love of Christ with remembering what Jesus did for me.

I am not too young to be used by God. I will not hear those who criticize and complain. I will not receive their disease. I will push forward and finish everything I start because I was born for success. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Today, I choose to have the joy of the Lord as my strength. My identity is in Christ. He is my Source and I belong to Him.
